

MEMORANDUM

To: Degenerate GMs

From: Commissioner BlakeBro
Co-Commissioner Tony Loff

Date: August 13th, 2025

Re: New League Year

Degenerates, Liars, Losers, Fantasy Scammers – FANTASY SEASON IS BACK.

Let's make one thing clear: we're still the most powerful, most exclusive, most elite, most censored fantasy football league in the entire country. No matter what the Fake News Fantasy Networks say, the numbers don't lie – this league is still #1 in the ratings. Owner retention? Historic. Contract inflation? Under control. Integrity? Impeccable. And just like Nancy Pelosi's stock trades, the results are always suspiciously perfect with BlakeBro at the helm.

*A VERY SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT***

This season marks a historic milestone – for the first time ever, one fantasy owner has knocked up another owner. That's right, Madison (Team Barbie) and I (your Commissioner) are expecting our first child in September. We plan to both take dual ownership and will be putting 18 contract years on the little one as soon as they're drafted. Week 3 or 4 of the season should be incredibly special!

Of course, Tony “Look At Me” Loff couldn't let us have the spotlight. He's also getting married to Pateel (the other part of the Barbie “brain” trust) this September in what I can only assume is a desperate attempt to hijack headlines. Sad! It's like announcing your candidacy for President over the (sharp as a tack) incumbent in the middle of the race (without any votes) and then spending over a billion dollars quicker than Tony wastes his FAAB money every year. Just let me cook, Tony.

BUT BACK TO FANTASY... Folks – we had a wild 2024. David Loff won the championship. That's right, David; the guy who seemingly loses every trade he's involved in. They're calling it the Great Fantasy Robbery – rigged, frankly. But congrats to him. He bought high, sold low, and dodged more bullets than Hunter Biden in a paternity suit. The only explanation for his fantasy victory is a tiny white substance we found in the bathroom at my beloved White House. Going forward, all fantasy contenders will be subject to random drug testing!

But while some were rising, others were... not so elite.

“Look at Me” Loff just outright collapsed after seemingly having a playoff spot locked up. Said he was “playoff bound” after week 8, then lost 6 straight games and watched helplessly as BlakeBro rattled off 4 straight wins and kicked his sorry ass into the consolation bracket. Now he's gone from the top of the league to throwing fits over rules. Went full Jan. 6 on the contract system and is now trying to stop the count on our defensive points. These are unfortunately the sad outcomes that can occur when a young man loses his mind to Fantasy Football. Let us all have a moment of silence for Loff's horrible roster...

MOVING ON... Flight Risk Ryan (anonymously known as “M” in intelligence circles) continues to underachieve – finishing in 9th place (again). M might have more success if he came up with an actual draft strategy versus simply claiming his opponents have uranium enrichment facilities and are 2 years away from having a full-blown nuclear arsenal. Your friends under the Iron Dome have been beating that drum for too long, little man! Time to kiss your lover Dave Smith goodbye and get to work!

Talkin’ Tony Busch isn’t much better, folks! The man went from stumbling through casinos to stumbling into the Finals last year until David put him in his place. I don’t know what’s more depressing, his team’s complete lack of talent or the fact that he’s ditching the Vegas trip with BlakeBro this year... or could it be that he’s skipping the Loff Wedding?!? Talkin’ TB is more disappointing than a CNN town hall. How could he do this to us?

And yes – I’ve seen the rumors. “Will BlakeBro make it back to Vegas? ...is BlakeBro washed? Will BlakeBro Jr. arrive on Labor Day weekend and end the Vegas trip forever?” Folks, let me be the first to tell you that I’ll be BACK better than ever – and will 10X my fantasy winnings next year in beautiful Las Vegas in due time. TB doesn’t even gamble anymore – BlakeBro’s a total WINNER!!

Changing gears – we’ve got Irrelevant Levon, who’s fantasy team is the human embodiment of a 25% import tax. Every year, he drafts like he’s at a flea market in Berlin: overpays for washed goods, haggles over FAAB like it’s Deutsche Marks, and ends up with players whose biggest highlight is availability. But give the man credit – he shows up. Even if his roster is built entirely from U.S. exports and broken waiver wire dreams, he still believes. He’s got that European optimism... you know, the kind that collapses under sanctions by Week 6. Could this be his year? Probably not, but who cares.

And let’s not forget our other international hero, Military Mikey. Serving overseas while still managing a lineup better than half of you frauds. Didn’t set a roster for weeks and STILL outscored most of us – including a 180+ point performance against yours truly in the playoffs. That’s a true patriot. Some call it luck, I call it American Made Grit. He’ll be on auto-draft again this season as he’s underway for the majority of the year. His team will also be managed by artificial intelligence... made in America!!

Mathieu & Hannah – The royal couple of the league. They were once the picture of fantasy football power – Hannah, a two-time champ who struck fear into the hearts of men, and Mathieu, a man brave enough to live in her shadow. But oh, how the mighty have fallen. Hannah didn’t just fall off last season, she rebranded – from The Queen of the North to The Duchess of the Drain. Toilet Bowl Champion 2024. And Mathieu? Quiet. Calculating. Likely pulling strings behind the scenes like Jeffrey Epstein committing... absolutely no crimes! Let’s just hope the camera’s magically stop working when it comes time for his fantasy team to perform – because things could get messy!

And lastly, we have Team Barbie – Madison and Pateel. What was supposed to be a short-term fix – a bridge team while we found another owner – has suddenly turned into back-to-back 3rd place finishes, a fantasy wedding, and a baby on the way. Hell, fantasy isn’t even their full-time job – Pateel is also a budding movie star after appearing in Rob Lowe’s latest film. If they put half as much effort into fantasy as they did their nightly routines, we’d have a real problem on our hands! We can only hope that BlakeBro Jr. get’s Madison’s draft prowess and Blake’s conservative FAAB spending habits.

Anyways – buckle up, folks! May your trade offers be lobsided, your waiver claims swift, and newly drafted rookies make an immediate impact. The GOLDEN AGE of fantasy has begun!

The Degenerate League is back. America is back. And most importantly... I’M BACK.

HAPPY FANTASY, YOU COWARDS.

Key Updates + Reminders

- $50 buy-in is due before the Draft or you'll lose draft picks (Venmo: @blake-pangman)
- 70% ($231) for 1st, 20% ($66) for 2nd, and 10% ($33) for 3rd plus $10/week for top score
- ROSTER REMINDERS
  - 20 roster spots, 3 IR slots, only 12 "new" contracts each year
    - All trades (especially those with Dave) process immediately
  - 2024 Franchise Rule for 1 year (free) retainer prior to 3 years at 2:1 or release
    - You don't need to utilize this, but deadline is 8/27
- Each team gets 12 new contract years for players drafted this season
  - Extra contracts from last season carry over but FAAB (waiver dollars) do not
  - Contract years must be added to new/drafted players prior to NFL Opener for 1:1
  - Expiring players can still be saved with 2:1 contracts by 8/27 (current years only)
    - May not use any of your new (12) contracts for this, only carryover years
- Contract assignment rules (Toilet Bowl winnings added to "new" contract totals)
  - Existing players can be assigned additional contract years at 2-for-1
  - New players (rookies/trades/waivers) are assigned contracts at 1-for-1
  - Dropped players under contract earn ½ years (round down) for years dropped
    - Round down in the event of a fraction (i.e. drop 5 years, get 2 back)
- Rookie/FA Draft is 10-rounds maximum (you may draft over roster limit and drop after)
- REMEMBER: You have until 8/27 to finalize your rosters. Maximum of 20-spots, so make sure you drop players you don't intend to keep – or use 2:1 contracts to do so
